Club Meets Every Monday at Noon at the Yank Sing Restaurant, CTE, Killeen

Editor Maureen Jean Jouett

Harker Heights Police & Fire Rescue Officers of the Year

Community Service Director Kathy Clark Jones introduced the program. She recognized members from the Killeen Daily Herald who were in attendance and called upon Club Member Richard Jouett to introduce Harker Heights Fire Chief Jack Collier. Chief Collier in turn introduced the members of the Harker Heights Fire Department who were in attendance. Chief Collier talked about Lt. David Ayer, the Harker Heights Fire Rescue Officer, Paramedic, Emergency Medical Technician who was selected to receive this prestigious honor this year. Lt. Ayer was nominated not just because of the great work he does on duty but for something he did on the way to work. L. Ayer came upon a horrific traffic collision involving a rental moving truck. He immediately pulled over and climbed over the crushed hood, crawled through the broken windshield and assessed the driver and passenger for injuries. He called 911 and advise the dispatcher to send a Lifeline helicopter . The young boy's arm was impaled with glass from the side window. He has a potential of bleeding to death if not property removed. Both the passenger and the driver survived due in large part to Lt. Ayer's quick actions and selfless service.

Club Member Carroll Smith of the Killeen Police Department hen introduced Chief Mike Gentry . Chief

About the Police/Fire Rescue Officer of the Year Program

This program is designed to honor men and women who serve as law enforcement officers or firefighters. It is most successful when done with the cooperation of local law enforcement agencies and the fire department. These resources can help you establish the criteria by which outstanding performance of duty or an especially kind or helpful act is publicly recognized. Your club serves as the magnifying glass which enables the public to see a clearer view of what law enforcement and firefighting work is all about.

Selections should be made by a committee which not only includes Exchangites, but also high ranking civic and social leaders. When the selections are made, a detailed written explanation of the reasons as well as a biographical profile of the honorees should be distributed to the local news media. .

Continued:

Gentry in turn introduced the members of the Harker Heights Police Department who were in attendance. Chief Gentry then went on to talk about the Harker Heights Police Officer of the Year Edward Kime. After serving honorably in the United States military, Officer Kime joined the Harker Heights Police Department. While serving in the military Officer Kime flew both rotator and fixed wing aircraft. Kime is a 16-year Heights resident, and is known by the public and his fellow officers for his "calming demeanor" and ability to de-escalate hostile and possibly dangerous situations. Officer Kime is a role model to other officers and young people gravitate to him.
